Cover Story

Staff artist Tom Rezza wraps up the year with this Holiday cover.

In Step staff would like to take a moment to wish all of you the happiest of Holidays and the best in the New Year. And remember — when you are celebrating — if you're drinking — don't drive! If you live in Milwaukee — remember that the Milwaukee County Transit System offers FREE bus rides on New Year's Eve. Even if you're not drinking, we usually have blizzards on New Years, so a bus might not be a bad idea!

Note:

This is the last issue of the year. There will not be another In Step until January 23, 1986. This is the period during which we take our annual vacation.

Our office will be CLOSED from December 20th through January 12th. The deadline for the next issue; Volume 3, Number 1, the January 23rd, 1986 issue is 6 P.M. Tuesday, January 14th, 1986.

“The” Place to Party”
AIDS Pamphlet Called Too Explicit

MADISON (Milw. Journal). Two state senators say they object to what they call the sexually explicit language in an AIDS pamphlet that the state is distributing.

The pamphlet is produced by the San Francisco AIDS Foundation. It uses "four letter words" for sexual intercourse and other street terms for the kinds of sex in which gay men engage.

"We do not consider ourselves particularly prudish, but we are disgusted to see taxpayer dollars from people of all sexual preferences going to distribute such an explicit and vulgar brochure," Sens. Alan J. Lasee (D-Brookside) and Joseph Andrea (D-Kenosha) said in a letter.

They said that their letter was addressed to Linda Rentz, secretary of the Department of Health and Social Services.

Reitz said in a previous letter to Lasee that the pamphlet was written by physicians in plain language for people at risk of being exposed to AIDS, not for legislators or bureaucrats.

Attempted Murder Charge Called Irresponsible

FLINT, Mich. (GNC). Psychiatric tests were ordered for an AIDS antibody carrier who pleaded guilty to attempted murder, rather than with a lesser offense, saying the facts and the law gave him little choice.

Weiss compared the case to one involving an attacker with a defective gun.

"Take a fellow who comes into your office with a gun with a defective firing pin," he said. "He doesn't know it's defective. He starts pulling the trigger."

"If you take our theory that he thought he could spread it, that's all we need," he said.

"I have a great deal of sympathy for AIDS victims," Weiss said after the hearing.

Aid for AIDS
Concert
Tenatively Scheduled

Tampa, FL (GNIC): A concert to benefit AIDS, patterned after the Live Aid concert for African famine victims, has been tentatively scheduled for March 22 at the Tampa Stadium, said its California promoter and a city official.

"Musicthon '86: The Aid for AIDS Concert" should raise between $15 and $50 million for the International AIDS Foundation, said Steven Ostrow, president of RJO Entertainment, who also said he hopes for a worldwide television audience.

"Through the performers, celebrities and dignitaries involved, we hope to increase the public awareness of the disease on a world-wide level," Ostrow said in a Monday news release.

He said he expected to sign 30 top performers for the concert.

A contract should be signed by Jan. 6, said Rich Nafe, executive director of the Tampa Sports Authority. He added that RJO is negotiating for cable and network television release.

The show was originally scheduled for Los Angeles, but RJO moved it to Florida because of better weather and because the Tampa Stadium is wired for broadcasting such events, as the Super Bowl, Nafe said.

Nafe and Ostrow said Busch Gardens and Disney World in Lake Buena Vista were under consideration as sites for another concert.

But a spokesperson for Disney said they had not been contacted about a show or telethon for AIDS, "Our office knows nothing about it," said Ron Maddox, adding that it is unlikely the park would consider taking part in the concert. "It may be wishful thinking on his part."

HRCF & GRNL TO MERGE

Washington, D.C. (GNIC): The Gay Rights National Lobby has announced that it will merge with The Human Rights Campaign Fund, an organization which it created itself in 1982.

Under the merger plan, GRNL's education and lobbying projects will be taken over by HRCF and will be known as the Gay Rights National Educational Project. HRCF will establish two other "arms," one of which will be its long-term project of contributing to congressional campaigns of candidates who support lesbian and gay rights. The other "arm" will be the renamed AIDS Campaign Trust, which will contribute to candidates who support "full-scale responsible, compassionate federal response to the AIDS epidemic."

Although the merger comes only six weeks after a merger was rejected by the National Gay & Lesbian Task Force, spokespeople for GRNL deny that the organization would have folded otherwise. "We've had less money than we'd like, but so has every other gay and lesbian organization," Gay Community News reports.

The situation was to be discussed at the next Executive Board meeting of GRNL.

One aspect of the merger which still appears cloudy is staffing. HRCF executive director Miguel Gomez is being hired by HRCF, a spokesperson for GRNL deny that the organization would have folded otherwise. "We've had less money than we'd like, but so has every other gay and lesbian organization," Gay Community News reports.

The situation was to be discussed at the next Executive Board meeting of GRNL.

Prison Visiting Rights:

A gay man is threatening a court challenge to the visiting privileges at the Maine State Prison.

Inmate Daniel Nutting, 27, is threatening a court challenge because he said the issue of visiting privileges for gay men are judged by different standards.

An awareness arose from the conference that most lesbian activists work closely with gay rights frameworks, rather than in a distinctively lesbian movement.

Gay Man May Sue for Visiting Rights:

Catholic Paper Rejects DIGNITY Ad:

Washington D.C. (GNIC): The Catholic Standard, the weekly newspaper of the Archdiocese of Washington, D.C., said in an editorial in its November 14 issue that it would not accept an ad from the local Dignity chapter because the group does not meet the "minimum standards" set by the Washington Archbishop James Hickey for organizations that minister to lesbians and gay men.

In the editorial, Edgar Miller, the paper's executive editor, said that Hickey's standards, put forth in a pastoral letter dated April 5, 1994, require that any group ministering to gay men must advocate that gay men and lesbians practice "complete abstinence from all sexual activity." In order to be recognized as an official ministry, the Washington Blade reports.

Dignity maintains that gay men and lesbians can remain faithful to Catholicism without practicing celibacy, which position is contrary to Hickey's statement.
U.S. Attorney to Prosecute Gay Basher

Washington, D.C. (GNIC): United States Attorney Joseph diGenova reversed a decision made by one of his assistants not to prosecute a man who assaulted a gay man outside a Washington gay bar.

Roger VanMeter, 32, was assaulted outside the Lone Star bar by Wayne Still, 37, on the night of August 23. VanMeter, a waiter at the bar, said that Still called him a "faggot" and punched him in the side of the face, the Washington Blade reports.

The reportedly unprovoked attack knocked VanMeter to the sidewalk, caused a mild concussion and fractured his cheekbone in three places. He will undergo surgery in January to have part of his facial bone replaced with a plastic plate.

Despite the fact that VanMeter was willing to come forward as a complainant, and despite the fact that he and the arresting police officer claimed that there were witnesses to the incident, an official in the U.S. Attorney's office had decided not to prosecute Still.

That decision caused Rep. Barney Frank (D-Mass) to write to diGenova requesting an explanation. DiGenova reviewed the decision and has determined that a charge of simple assault, a misdemeanor, will be filed against Still.

When asked his reaction to diGenova's decision, VanMeter said, "It's a sigh of relief. But I'm still skeptical. I'll feel better only after they file (Still) and take him into custody."

AIDS Cases Leveling Off In Bay Area

San Francisco — A spokesperson for the health department said the number of AIDS cases is beginning to level off in the Bay Area, according to The New York Native.

"The AIDS statistics seem to have reached a plateau for the first three quarters of 1985," said Zohn Artman. Presently, two people daily are diagnosed with AIDS in the San Francisco area, while at least one person dies from the disease every day.

AIDS Project Forming New Corporate Parent

Several individuals working with the Milwaukee AIDS Project and other community-based responses to the AIDS crisis have formed a new corporate umbrella for MAP, called AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin, Inc. The organization intends to draw upon resources from the community at large in order to provide for a comprehensive response to the full range of concerns surrounding AIDS.

Since its inception by the Brady Est, STD, Inc., the Milwaukee AIDS Project was cognizant of the eventual need to create its own corporate body in order to attract the substantial resources necessary to address AIDS and all the impacted populations. Through a working group composed of the President of BESTD, Inc., Nova Clete, MAP Director Susan Dietz, CCAF president Don Schwamb and CCBA president Marc Haupert, the initial groundwork was laid in order to respond to all the medical, patient care, legal, religious, business, governmental and fundraising concerns which surround AIDS.

Currently, a transition plan is being drafted for further input by the MAP Steering Committee, its members, the BESTD board and interested parties. The transition plan will be the blueprint for further actions, and all meetings will be announced and open to the public. The transition is anticipated to be completed concurrent with ARCW's draft for further input by the MAP Steering Committee, its members, the BESTD board, the MAP Steering Committee and key supporters from the community at large, including Archbishop Rembert Weakland, Bishop Roger White, Dr. Karen Lamb and many others (the initial groundwork was laid in order to correspond to all the medical, patient care, legal, religious, business, governmental and fundraising concerns which surround AIDS). The strategy is also being formed to act as an informational and support resource. For further information, call Sue Dietz at MAP.

The Arts

“The Art of Dining” Smells!

The direction of Dilya Hamlet doesn’t rescue a poor piece. It is equally bad. Frankly, I’ve seen better productions in a high school setting. Poor pageant kids can’t save it and don’t.

James Pickering is a commodity, we’re becoming too accustomed to seeing as of late. One can’t help but compare this performance to that in Lenny Hines’ The Necro to see the substance lacking here. Perhaps, he just didn’t have more to dredge up. Maybe Mathay as Filled, turns out the same sophomore acting quality.

In the first scene, one is served no gastronomic delight as sexual satisfaction, not once, but three times. Grant you, I’m no prude but please, give me some adult level comedy with a minimal amount of intelligence and sophistication. Really I seemed to feel that I was trapped in a bad T.V. sitcom with poor scenery and even worse acting. I Love Lucy (which I thoroughly enjoy) has more quality and style than this theatrical aberration ever will.

Ellen, retorts to her husband, Cal (Pickering), “You’d eat anything and like it!” The Rep would have us believe that we too could be offered anything they just might put forth and enjoy it. Unfortunately, that’s not the case for one who’s palate has some refinement. You don’t need to have Gordon Bleu training to know that.

By way of a small observation regarding eating protocol, the table facing me had dinner forks placed on the right side of the dinner plate. So much for the training. How ever, do you think that forks on the right are a new sign of a particular sexual persuasion? I didn’t stay to find out.

Lastly, it’s been reported that the Rep plans to spend $4,000 - $6,000 on groceries for this five week fiasco. Taking a compromise figure of $5,000, with 36 performances by my count of the schedule, they plan to spend $125 per performance on groceries for this abomination.

My last column gave you information regarding their Quality of Life Food Campaign. If they are serious about feeding the poor, they should close this embarrassment and donate the entire sum saved to the Second Harvesters of Wisconsin.

Poetry Sought

Norman Richards and Namron Press of Milwaukee are putting together an anthology of gay poetry by our local authors to benefit AIDS.

This book, to be released in Spring 1986 will not only give Milwaukee’s own nationwide exposure, but the result will also benefit an important cause.

Those interested in submitting their work for possible inclusion can send their samples (no more than four poems) to: Namron Press, 1819 B N. Arlington Pl., Milwaukee, WI 53212. The subject matter is open. The deadline is January 31st.

Film Series at the Milwaukee Art Museum

The Milwaukee Art Museum will launch a new film series in January that will explore the work of six “Great Directors” — Pudovkin, Chaplin, Hitchcock, Fellini, Bergman and Woody Allen.

Each weekend at 2 p.m. films will profile the director’s life and career, followed one week later by one of the director’s quintessential works. All films are shown in the Art Museum’s Multi-Media Theater, and are free with regular Art Museum admission.

when you weigh the good against the bad, well there’s just no question. I can go to any major metropolitan area in the country and have friends to call that will make me feel at home; I’ve been a part of helping to create a network that has the ability to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars in the fight against AIDS; I’ve heard the compliments of members of the gay community regarding our professionalism, comradeship, and sportsmanship; I’ve held hands with brothers and sisters from across this nation and sang and cried together at banquets. No, one of us involved in the various tournaments makes anything financially from them (we even pay for our own banquet tickets), but we are much richer people for being a part of it all.

I urge you to get involved in an organization this coming New Year, be it one of the sports organizations, Cream City Business Association, BEST Clinic, Milwaukee AIDS Project, there are so many out there that need your help. I was speaking to someone in another right that said they prefer to just sit on the sidelines, not really be a part of an organization, as it was all run by just a click of an elite few anyway. BULL SHIT! There’s not an organization in this city that does out welcome new members, and need new peo-tle to help. Don’t wait for an engraved invitation; walk up and offer your services; you’d be surprised how soon you’d be a part of that so called “elite few”. There are many of us getting tired, and burned out. We need different ideas and new viewpoints. Please, make a New Year’s resolution to help, be cause me you’ll be glad you did!

OF THE YEAR — 1986
The person who in my opinion contributed the most to the advancement of Gay Sports in Milwaukee during the past year!

I’d like to present this award to someone I called and asked to help me with Housing and Transportation for Series 9. She not only ended up helping me but almost single handedly coordinated the Women’s Division of Series 9 (with some very good help from Karen of Hot Legs). That person is SUZI ARNOLD of the Y.P. Flamingos softball team. Suzy became like a brother to me during those few months, and I could ever express how much she did to make the Series a success. If you ever think it’s a

The 1985 Sports year is now coming to a close. It's time to reflect back on the year in Gay Sports here in Wisconsin, and it's one we have a right to be very proud of.

Perhaps our major accomplishment of 1985 was Series 9, the Gay Softball World Series. Under the leadership of Ron Burbey and Tom Salzsieder, this year's Series was probably the finest ever held. The whole community banded together to put on the best possible tournament, fund raising, food concessions, parties, bar support, private housing, transportation, opening ceremonies, Miller Brewing, hospitality suite, diamonds, umpires, photographers, front page news coverage, Fest City Singers, etc. etc. The list goes on and on, and in retrospect, one would have to try very hard to remember much of anything bad. On a whole, Milwaukee, we looked great!

One of the things you often hear, is where does all the money go? How much did the people involved get paid for doing what they did? The answer, a big fat zero! All of the committee members donate their time and talents for events such as this. They spend many hours at meetings, many dollars at the various fund raisers, and put in a lot of hard work. Although, in some instances certain costs are recouped (such as phone calls and postage), I am certain that anyone on the committee could have written a check at the beginning of the year for $500 and come out much better off financially than they did by working on the committee.

Why do they do it? Good question! I can only speak for myself, and my reasons are: the people I have the privilege of getting to know through these organizations; a chance to promote fellowship between the Gay, Lesbian, and Straight communities; and to in some small way help to advance our Gay image. I have spent a lot of time in the past 10 years working in bowling and softball organizations, and I wouldn't trade a minute of it. Sure, there are times when you get so frustrated you would like to throw your hands up in the air and chuck it all. But, ended on page 35.

Finished all your shopping? If not — check some of our advertisers: at East Towne Therapy you could give someone you know a prepaid visit to a therapist! Or how about a 3-Hour Milwaukee bar crawl in the La Cage Limo? You could contact Mr. Vastastic and hire him to move out your best friends ex-lover (who still doesn't have a job?) How about some juicy video from Bijou's mail order service? And, Video Adventures at 1800 Farrell is brand new and is offering 25% discounts on their memberships with the coupon from this issue. Or, perhaps a 3 day getaway to some exotic locale for you and your lover scheduled for early February. — when you need it most... call The Travel Group. At Seven Seas Aquatics you can add to your fish collection, or perhaps a bird or small animal... and you've gotta get kitty a new catnip mouse (they have real ones, too). Video Visions also offers a large selection of tapes for purchase or rental, and they also have a wide scale of memberships available. Old Masters always offers a wide variety of cards, and frames, along with some choice prints._

Perhaps you'd rather take someone out to lunch or dinner at the M & M Club's Glass Menagerie, the place is beautifully decorated for Christmas — classy, just like it's surroundings. Perhaps you want something right downtown — stop in at the Grand Avenue Pub — they offer hearty lunches and dinners. The Ski Glow is always a kick — especially after hours, where the food and the fun go hand-in-hand.

Or you're going to have to get your hair done at least once for all of the festivities and small gatherings, so give Hair by Dav a call before it gets any later. And for those last minute invitations or for future needs — put Progressive Prints on your list.

Well that brings us up to the always important SOCIAL CALENDAR. Last issue we went through the 22nd with a lot of listings, so we'll just cover events after that point and any last minute additional parties that we weren't aware of before... The Beer Town Badgers are having a holiday Club Night at the Boot Camp on the 20th, on with drink specials and drawings. On the 22nd in Wausau, Camp is having a 3-Hour Milwaukee bar crawl in the La Cage Limo? It is very tempting to use Nonoxyol 9 as a layer of prevention against AIDS while engaging in oral sex and anal intercourse. But, first make sure spermicides don't irritate your skin, your mouth or your rectum. When in doubt, check with your doctor. And, to be sure that he's really up on the subject, be well informed yourself.

Colors, tastes and smells

People occasionally object at first to the taste of latex; but find after a few experiences with condoms and hot sex that rubber tastes marvelous. Be careful about rubbers which are scented because the scents can activate allergic reactions. There is considerable variety in the taste and smell of condoms. Some have unsuitable dyes and may run. Pastel colors are better than the most vivid hues.

How can a person learn to enjoy condoms?

First, experiment all you want. If you're clumsy, don't sweat it. If you make a mess, open another one and start again.

Playing is easy, that's fine too. Keep several types and sizes around so that you and your partners will have a choice.

- Put your favorite fantasy partners into rubber scenes while you masturbate. Think up ways you might get the partners to use condoms and what it would be like.
- You can't make rubber feel the exact way as naked skin, but you can explore the sensations of condoms. Once you do this, they can become as sexy as jock straps, and as much fun as other sex toys.
- There are a thousand ways to make putting on condoms a hot part of sex instead of an interruption. Use imagination. Put a condom on your man's very sensuously with your mouth. Or put it on part way and make him wonder how it is going to get the rest of the way on - Go to apples, go to his toes, make him beg you to finish the job.
- Many people make the mistake of thinking that once they've put a rubber on, they have to ejaculate or else. This is a sure way not to enjoy condoms. Use as many rubbers during sex as you like.

Right To Life Crashes Women’s Conference

In particular, two of the panel discussions at the November 22 conference, “Civil Rights for Lesbians and Gays” and “Women’s Health and Reproductive Rights,” drew criticism from New Hampshire Right to Life, Gay Community News reports.

Marian Wolfsun, director of the New Hampshire Commission on the Status of Women, received several complaints before the conference. “People were upset about the state putting money into ‘perverts and murderers,’ and said Governor John Sununu had assured them that these issues would not be supported by his administration,” she said.

The civil rights panel drew the largest audience and the most media attention. Panelists Jon Meyer, attorney with the New Hampshire Civil Liberties Union, and attorney Ellen Mullis spoke about the State Division of Children and Youth Services’ attempts to formulate a policy forbidding lesbians and gay men from becoming foster parents, and the current proposed bill which would legislate that prohibition.

Sullivan County Rep. Mildred Ingram, author of the proposed bill, attended the session, reading a statement during the open discussion period. She asserted her desire “to protect the children of New Hampshire from a situation which is not in the best interests of the child or society.” She claimed that gay men and lesbians are unnatural and abusive, and said, “The only way they can carry on their life is to proselytize ... If they love children, let them abandon their unnatural way of life and have children of their own.”

Kathy Sousa, vice-president of New Hampshire Right To Life, claimed that permitting lesbians and gay men to adopt or to care for foster children would cause abortions to increase. “Women will be inclined to seek abortions to avoid giving their children up to homosexuals,” she explained.
BASIC CONDOM SENSE

The 3rd Installment in a Three-part Series of Articles Designed to Educate Men on "Basic Condom Sense"

by Clark L. Taylor, PhD, EdD

Why rubbers don't work and what to do about it

The major reason condoms fail to prevent disease is that people only use them part of the time—particularly during the first year. Wear them every time! Researchers state that the most common reasons people give for not wearing rubbers are:

(a) they think a partner is not infected;
(b) they don't think rubbers really work;
(c) they forget to carry them;
(d) they are too embarrassed to bring the subject up—afraid a partner will be offended; or
(e) they are too drunk or high on drugs to care, remember, or even be able to put their rubbers on.

Don't let this happen to you. When you're going to use penetration during sex, be prepared, willing and able to use condoms.

The second most important reason condoms don't prevent disease is that they leak or break. An occasional rubber is poorly manufactured. Many fail because they are old, or have been exposed to heat or extreme cold. But the most common reasons are rough treatment and oil-based lubricants.

Never use oil-based lubricants on condoms. They gum up rubbers, make them brittle, and cause them to dissolve quickly. As well, if you masturbate hard, stretch the receptacle lip or twang it on the tip of the urethra, be sure to put on a new condom before penetration. Even if the rubber seems OK, you may have weakened it.

If a rubber breaks during intercourse, withdraw, urinate or defecate, and clean up well. If sperm has escaped into the vagina or intestines, consider immediately inserting a spermicide with 5% or more Nonoxynol-9. Rubbers only cover the penis and therefore only protect the organ and what it touches. Unfortunately, this is not enough protection against AIDS (or herpes or syphilis) since infected body fluids which get into cuts, abrasions, ingrown hairs, pimples, bleeding gums, or other broken skin may spread the disease. Be sure to check out yourself and your partner to avoid unnecessary risks. Consider placing hand-aids over small problem areas as protection and to serve as a gentle reminder during sex.

If you have broken skin on your hands, try latex or vinyl examination gloves. They are cheap and are sold at most drug stores. In addition to giving protection, they're great for anal play because the cause less friction than bare hands and help keep nails from scratching or pinching the intestine walls. They also keep the hands clean so that after the gloves are removed, a person doesn’t spread amoebas, AIDS virus or other pathogens around during the rest of sex.

Ordinary 3% Hydrogen Peroxide that you can buy from the drug store kills AIDS virus on contact when diluted 10 parts water to 1 part Peroxide. It is a good thing to have around for cleaning up after sex. For a gargoyle before and after kissing or sucking cock, a 3 to 1 solution is recommended. Solutions should be fresh since Peroxide deteriorates quickly once it has been diluted, especially so if left open or in a clear container.

Nonoxynol-9

Nonoxynol-9 is a mild detergent used in spermicides and various other "feminine hygiene" products to prevent pregnancy and V.D. It works by bursting the outer protein cap of sperm and various pathogens. In laboratory tests, this soap quickly and effectively kills, gonorrhea, syphilis, CMV, yeast, trichomonas and amoebas. Most recently, it has also been found to kill AIDS virus easily in the test tube. This is promising news. However, Nonoxynol-9 is considerably more effective under laboratory conditions than in actual sexual use because:

(a) The inert ingredients in spermicides—foams, gels and creams—do not always spread evenly or form a sufficient chemical barrier for Nonoxynol-9 to kill pathogens before they can reach uninfected tissue.
(b) People often use spermicides incorrectly and only when they "think" a partner is infected.
(c) People abandon condoms instead of using Nonoxynol-9 and condoms together.

Gay Games II Poster Contest
San Francisco Arts & Athletics and Cultural Week, Sponsor of Gay Games II is sponsoring a Fine Arts Poster Contest. Gay and Lesbian Artists are encouraged to submit their work for consideration as one of the GG II official posters.

The contest will culminate in a major exhibit of gay and lesbian artwork to be held during the week of the Games. The top three finishers will be invited to show more of their artwork during this juried exhibit.

The artwork to be submitted must be 16" x 22". Overall size of the posters, including border, will be 22" x 31". Artists should consider the major themes of Gay Games II:
Everyone is a winner — athletes, volunteers, spectators;
GG II stresses the health and vitality of our community through amateur athletics;
GG II encourages participation from men and women in all age groups;
The events are truly international in scope;
Everyone can participate in Gay Games II;
Artists should study the Official Rules carefully before submitting entries. Original artwork must be received at the Gay Games office by February 1, 1986.
For complete Rules and Entry Form, write or call Poster Competition, Gay Games II, 535 Castro Street, San Francisco, CA 94114. Phone (415) 861-8282.

Star Gazing

SAGITTARIUS — Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 (Jupiter) Be on the lookout for future prospects. Don't be so cranky, things will work out soon. Smile and tough it out, that's better than sitting around feeling sorry for yourself.

CAPRICORN — Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 (Saturn) When things aren't going your way, stop and try to find out why. Frustration only breeds hostility—something no one needs right now.

AQUARIUS — Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 (Uranus) It's your move. You came up with the bright idea and you've been given the go ahead. So get up and go, let's see what kind of a worker you really are.

PISCES — Feb. 19 - March 20 (Neptune) Stick to the ropes, let common sense be your guide. Sometimes things are so easy that you might confuse the issue with trivial notions.

ARIES — March 21 - April 19 (Mars) Stop being so shy, you are missing out on a lot of things you like to do. Relax and enjoy yourself a little more. Don't be a last minute shopper this year.

TAURUS — April 20 - May 20 (Venus) Making new friends is great but don't let new friends ruin old friendships. If you are attached, now may be the time to get attached.

GEMINI — May 21 - June 20 (Mercury) You are a doer, but make sure to keep your eyes and ears open to what's going on around you. Be flexible but keep a strong upper lip. Try to be a little more spontaneous.

CANCER — June 21 - July 22 (Moon) Sit down and talk to a Capricorn, it will be refreshing to talk with someone who compliments you. You may be able to solve some problems in your life.

LEO — July 23 - Aug. 22 (Sun) If you don't have the time or energy for a relationship right now, inform your partner. He/she may not feel the same way. Be honest with yourself.

VIRGO — Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 (Mercury) Don't dwell on old memories at family gatherings, especially bad ones. If this happens, Continued on page 29.

Juicy Bits
by W.W. Wells III

Predictions: 1986

Judge Wagner's incredible outburst... Sean Penn and Madonna split... Amazing gas powered gerbils... These are just a few of the startling predictions for 1986 made by world renown soothsayer, InStep columnist and all around nice guy, W. W. Wells III.

A well-known and well-endowed porn star will walk off the set of his latest flick after refusing to perform a B.J. on himself, claiming he was afraid of giving himself AIDS.

On March 26, 1986 the moon, the sun, all nine planets and Halley's Comet will be perfectly in line. The only noticeable effect will be all the bars will stay open 5 hours longer and will have no cover charge.

An angry mob, sick and tired of Michael Jackson, will force him to stand naked in a department store display window for nine hours.

A gang of rather confused gay bank robbers will be arrested by police after they blow up the vault and burn the tellers.

Grace Jones will challenge Sylvester Stallone to a fight to avenge her boyfriend's defeat at the hands of Stallone in Rocky IV. Grace will win easily and a film of the match will be released as Rocky V.

Scientists will discover a method of making gerbils run on gasoline, surprisingly, many will get good mileage.

Santa Claus will be arrested on a morals charge after being caught with Prancer behind Santa's Stable.

A record for the greatest amount of Jell-O in one location will be set in Wild Cherry, New Mexico, where residents will pour 30,000 boxes of Jell-O into a nearby lake.
La Cage Turnabout Show put the bar's regular employees on stage and the performers worked the bar. $834 was raised for the Milwaukee AIDS Project.
